ONCE WEALTHY NOW A PAUPER.

Wealthy once and an owner of stock in New England and Washington trolley lines, Joseph Maloney, 65 years old, whose hair has turned gray and who has practically been a wanderer since the death of his wife, several years ago, yesterday gave up his struggle to obtain work and sank exhausted on the floor in front of the rail in the east Fifth street station, New York.

As he collapsed Maloney muttered that New York city is the coldest place on earth to the man who seeks work after once his hair is tinged with gray. In telling his story to Lieutenant Kane he declared:

"I have made a fight, but there was nothing in it. I could get no work so I went hungry, and I am hungry now. I walked the streets, day and night, asking for work to earn food and a lodging, but no one would give me a chance."

Maloney tottered from weakness and sank down on the floor. Lieutenant Kane sent for an ambulance and Dr Steele came from Bellevue. The surgeon said the aged man was suffering from starvation and took him off to the hospital, where Maloney revived after being fed and put to bed.

"It's no use," he said, "for a man to search in this city for work when he begins to grow old. No one wants him. Everywhere he goes to seek work he is told that a younger man is needed, or perhaps he is turned away without so much as a hearing. There was a time when I had money, but I put it in railroad stocks and then when the big combinations came they swept out the small investors and there was nothing left."

Maloney once owned a patent for an air brake, but somehow he lost that, too, and in utter desperation he walked miles every day, without success, searching for something to do.

ABOLISHING THE STILETTO.

"The reign of the knife and the stiletto, which has been unquestioned in Italy for centuries," says the Rome correspondent of a Berlin paper, "is to be brought to an end. For generations it has been the custom to carry a knife, and those men in the lower walks who had no knife carried a sharpened nail or file, to be used on the slightest provocation. The wine is heavy, the blood of the people is hot, their power of self control small. Is it a wonder, then, that, with the murderous instrument always at hand, there should be so many fatal encounters? But the lawmakers have at last discovered that the morals of the whole nation have been influenced for the bad by the knife-carrying custom and laws will be passed similar to those now in force in some parts of the United States of America, making it a crime to carry a deadly weapon."

KING EDWARD'S APPEAL.

Practically ignored by the government in its protest against the contemplated reception of Cardinal Vannutelli at Windsor Castle, the council of the Protestant alliance in London yesterday notified the secretary of state for home affairs that it proposes to appeal to Parliament unless King Edward heeds its warning not "to violate for a second time the Protestant constitution of the kingdom established by the bill of rights and act of settlement."

The council's contention is that any British monarch who recognizes the pope automatically vacates his throne. Edward offended the organization deeply by attending a requiem mass for the late King Carlos of Prussia.

On learning that the cardinal, the papal delegate to the congress in September, was to be received by his majesty, the secretary sent a strong protest to the foreign office, presumably hoping that it would be communicated to Rome. The only answer was: "The under secretary of state for foreign affairs presents his compliments to the secretary of the Protestant alliance and, by direction of the secretary of state, acknowledges receipt of his letter of the 31st ult."

The king's advisors take the stand that, while required to swear at his coronation that he is not a Catholic, nothing in the constitution prohibits him from acts of courtesy toward Catholic governments, the See of Rome or their representatives.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle, of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Richard Gibson.

MASON AND DIXON'S LINE.

"Mason and Dixon's line" is a reference to the boundary which was established in the years intervening from 1763 to 1767 between the colonies of Maryland and Virginia on one side, and that of Pennsylvania on the other side, by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, who were two English civil engineers. So thoroughly was the allotted task performed by these young Englishmen that an 1849 revision of the survey failed to detect the slightest error. The United States government also, as recently as 1901, has caused the Maryland portion of the noted boundary line to be again revised.

SATURDAY EVENING, AUG. 22, 1908.

LAUNCHING his keenest shafts against the tardiness of the republican concession that tariff revision is pertinent and treating the admission as a piece of insincerity intended merely to dupe the people into once more supporting their party, Mr. Bryan last night delivered the first of his speaking-tour speeches in Des Moines, Ia., where tariff revision sentiment is most rampant, because of the sincere demand of republicans as well as democrats. Mr. Bryan showed that the platform utterance at Chicago was wrung from the republicans by fright, and that it really promised nothing. He went into a discussion of the unreasonableness and unfairness of tariff exactions. His speech practically assumed the consent of his hearers to the doctrine that the tariff ought to be revised, and was devoted largely to showing that the democrats and not the republicans were to be trusted to revise it, in spite of the declaration in the republican platform and to a comparison of the respective remedies offered by the two parties for tariff inequality. He attacked the republican promise of tariff revision and pertinently asked if the democratic party was not justified when it included in its platform the declaration that "the people cannot safely intrust the execution of this important work to a party which is so deeply obligated to the highly protected interests as the republican party." He declared that the republicans cannot be trusted to revise the tariff as they are in league with the trusts. He also combatted the idea that protection raises wages and clearly showed that the poor suffer most from the tariff. The democratic aim, he declared, is to procure justice in taxation and his speech was much more logical than that which Mr. Taft delivered at Hot Springs yesterday.

THE farmers are coming to their own again and their crops of grain and fruits this year will in many instances be record breakers. The Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore in compiling the year's statistics says:

The corn crop for the year is estimated at over 2,707,000,000 bushels, against 2,592,000,000 bushels in 1907. Here is a gain of 115,000,000 bushels. But corn is selling at more than 20 cents a bushel above the same time last year. At this rate the crop would be worth $585,000,000 more than last year, or about $1,920,000,000, against $1,336,000,000 in 1907. The wheat crop is estimated at 678,000,000 bushels, or a gain of 44,000,000 bushels over last year. Wheat is much higher than at the same time in 1906, the difference at present being about 10 cents a bushel. On this basis wheat would bring over $100,000,000 in excess of last year's total value. These two crops, should the parity of prices over 1907 continue as great as at present, would thus bring to the farmers about $675,000,000 to $700,000,000 more than last year. Even should prices largely decline there would still be room for a great gain over 1907. In view of these facts and of the general increase throughout the country in nearly all leading crops we believe it safe to estimate that the total value of the farm products of 1908 will approximate $8,200,000,000 as compared with $7,400,000,000 in 1907. If present conditions hold out and this tentative estimate is realized, the farmers will receive about $800,000,000 more for their crops than they did last year.

And it is hoped that they may. They bear much of the burden imposed by the iniquitous tariff—everything they use on their farms being highly taxed while nothing they raise is protected—and when providence aids them all should rejoice.

MR. TAFT in his speech at Hot Springs yesterday spoke of the great progress the south has made in recent years and, like all other republican speakers, who claim everything, attributed this progress to the benign effects of the republican party and the protective tariff. He, however, but argued against himself. The south is prosperous because of its natural resources and advantages and because every state is under democratic rule. Why, then, should the people follow Mr. Taft's advice and change their political faith? Were it not for the tariff that Mr. Taft lays so much stress upon the south would be even more prosperous than it has been. It is prosperous in spite of and not because of the tariff.

ON THE very back of Mr. Taft's prosperity speech at Hot Springs yesterday comes the announcement today that several print mills of the Amoskeag Company, at Manchester, N. H., will shut down for two weeks, throwing 4,500 employes out of work!

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Secretary of War Wright, with the approval of the president, today directed the dismissal from the West Point Military Academy of Cadets Wm. T. Rossell, jr., an honor man of the first class and son of Lieut. Col. Rossell of the army engineer corps, and Harry G. Weaver, first class, of Illinois, for participation in hazing. The other six cadets, convicted of hazing are sentenced to suspension with loss of all pay and allowances until June 15, 1909, when they will join the third class. The six suspended cadets are: George Chase, jr., of New York; James A. Gillespie, of Pennsylvania; Byron Q Jones, of New York; William Nalle, of Virginia; Wm. Prude, of Alabama, and Isaac Spalding, of Oklahoma, all of the first class. The secretary holds that Rossell and Weaver, because of their age and longer experience at the academy were more guilty than the others. He also holds that actual "hazing," according to dictionary definition, did not occur, and that in the absence of a congressional definition of the term in the act which requires dismissal as punishment, therefore, the young men were not guilty technically of anything but violation of regulations. The suspended cadets are directed to remain at their homes during their period of punishment.

Acting Comptroller of the Currency Kane today stated that under the last call for reports of condition of national banks it is shown that since December individual deposits have increased $197,000,000 and total resources $306,000,000; while the liabilities of the banks for government deposits have decreased $104,000,000, bills payable $47,000,000 and clearing house certificate $74,000,000. Compared with the figures of a year ago, individual deposits have increased 1.28 per cent and total resources 3.85 per cent.

The people of Washington will have the opportunity next week of witnessing a duplication of the wonderful flights of the Wright aeroplane which have recently so astonished folks over in France. Orville Wright, whose brother Wilbur has been conducting the experiments at LeMans, is busy today at Fort Myer, Va., putting together the strange looking craft, and expects to have it in condition to make the first flight in three or four days. He announces that there will be no secrecy in the tests. They will be open to the public. It will be the first heavier than air machine whose inventors claim practicability for it, in which the government has taken interest. If Wright makes a flight of five miles and return at the rate of forty miles an hour, he will receive $25,000 for the craft, with ten per cent. added for each additional mile.

The first meeting of the sub-committee of the Senate finance committee to gather information preliminary to tariff revision will be held in Washington on Monday. This sub-committee was appointed pursuant to a resolution passed at the last session of Congress.

The Isthmian Canal Commission today awarded to the Atlas Portland Cement Company, of Northampton, Pa., the contract to furnish all the cement required to construct the great Gatun dam and other work in connection with the canal. The contract calls for 4,500,000 barrels to be delivered within the next three years. The total compensation will be about $5,500,000.

Nearly half a hundred railroads are made defendants in a complaint filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Greenbay, Wis., Business Men's Association charging discrimination. The complaint is brought against the Trunk Line Association, Central Freight Association and the Western Trunk Committee and their members.

STOPPED THE MARRIAGE.

Rev. George S. Fitzhugh, the aged rector of St. Barnabas, Episcopal Church, at Curtis Bay, near Baltimore, attempted to wed his 10 year old adopted daughter, Lulu Virginia Frazer, a few days ago, but he will not be allowed to accomplish his desire, according to his son, Mr. George H. Fitzhugh, of Richmond, who has arrived in Baltimore.

Rev. G. S. Fitzhugh is now seriously ill, while the girl he wishes to marry plays childish pranks about the parsonage.

In the brief intervals of returning consciousness he will speak of his intended marriage, saying he expects to die at any minute and that above all things he wants someone to take care of the little girl. "The reason I want to marry little Virginia," he said, "was because I thought it would be the best way I could adopt her. She is such a sweet child and I have loved her since the moment I first set eyes upon her in the little home away off in the mountains of Virginia. Even from the first I thought of bringing her to my home here and making her my heiress. Her mother gave her to me and now I intend to see that she grows up with everything she wants. 'I wanted to send her to school for six years and at the end of that time she could come home and take charge of my household. I wanted to make sure of her by making her my wife, and I do not see any reason why I shouldn't under the circumstances. Now that I am sick and feel that my end is now drawing near I beg of you to take care of her and see that she never wants for anything."

On Tuesday Mr. Fitzhugh secured a marriage license and asked Rev. A. R. Snedegar, of the M. E. Church, to perform the ceremony but the latter refused to do so when he saw Mr. Fitzhugh's intended bride.

Before going to Ellicott city for a license Rev. Mr. Fitzhugh made several attempts to get one in Baltimore.

Rev. Mr. Fitzhugh is a man of culture, and has had some prominent charges in the 37 years he has been a minister. He was born in Port Royal, Caroline county, Virginia, and is a son of George Fitzhugh, who was a well-known writer. After finishing at the Episcopal Seminary, near Alexandria, he took a three-year-course at the Hartford Theological Seminary. He had several prominent charges in southern Florida, where he owns a large plantation.

His wife died about three years ago. He has three sons and two daughters now living in Maryland and Virginia. One son is a student at the University of Virginia, the other is a preacher in northern Virginia, and the one who is with him now has been practicing law in Richmond about eight years. The daughters make their home with him at Curtis Bay. For a number of years it is said the old man's health has been declining.

Young Mr. Fitzhugh tried to see Bishop Paret yesterday in regard to his father, but the bishop is out of the city. He hopes to have his father placed in a hospital or sanitarium.

According to Mr. George H. Fitzhugh, of Richmond, who reached Baltimore yesterday, his father will not be allowed to marry the girl under any circumstances.

Postmaster General Meyer, Forester Gifford Pinchot, and Theodore E. Shonts, are taking turns at conferences with Mr. Taft today at Hot Springs. It is generally believed that Meyer is the head collector of campaign contributions for the national committee. The resolutions of the board of visitors of the Polytechnic Institute, at Blacksburg, yesterday, declared that they acquiesced in President Barringer's renewed recommendation that Dr. Quick be retained for another year, and Dr. Quick will not leave the institute. It had been widely published that President Barringer had put Dr. Quick out without any explanation, and that other teachers were slated to go the same way. The Quick matter was the only one considered yesterday. Speaker R. E. Byrd, of the House of Delegates, went to Blacksburg to appear as Dr. Quick's lawyer. The board declined to hear him.

At the present stage of the campaign the democrats of the Ninth district of Virginia are taking an optimistic view of the prospect for winning in the race for Congress. J. Cloyd Byars, the democratic nominee, is popular, and when he made the race for the state senate a few years ago, in a district which is largely republican, he defeated his republican opponent. It is recognized that Mr. Byars is entering the race against odds. The democrats realize they can defeat Slemp only by means of a thorough organization. To this end a meeting will be held at Pulaski today, when a manager for Mr. Byars' campaign will be selected.

Earl, of Morrilton, Ark., in redemption of a large roll of greenbacks which Earl buried in 1904 and dug up covered with mud and apparently unrecognizable. Caruso's Demands.

London, Aug. 22.—According to the story going the rounds in London today, Enrico Caruso, the famous tenor, will have to use his voice to good effect for some time to come to make good the $160,000 loss in diamonds and jewelry that he suffered when "Mme. Enrico Caruso" eloped recently with Caruso's chauffeur. When the elopement of the woman, who, it is now said, is Gilda Giacchetti, also an opera singer, was announced several days ago, Caruso expressed gratification at the riddance. He did not know then, however, that Gilda had taken with her a satchel full of jewels that he had been years in collecting. The elopement of Gilda and the chauffeur is said to have taken place from Caruso's villa near Florence. Caruso is pleading for the return of his jewels, offering not to prosecute the elopers if she will but do this.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Hains Affair.

Boston, Aug. 22.—"This report regarding the parentage of Thornton Hains's child" said Mrs. Peter Hains's attorney today, "will help our case tremendously. But it is a small detail in the mass revelations with which we shall stagger the public when the case comes to trial. We did not expect that the story would become public so soon. But it has merely anticipated us."

Young Mrs. Hains did not deny today that she was predared to bargain with her husband for the custody of her children.

"I am between the devil and the deep sea," she said. "I may make such a bargain and a bargain it would be, for the sake of my children. I would do anything for them. That is all I can say about it."

This was in regard to the report that the young wife is willing to aid her husband's case if he consents to give up their three children.

The divorce suit which the slayer of Annis has brought against his wife and her counter action will wait until the murder trial is over. Mrs. Hains and her family believe that the place and time for their threatened revelations is the criminal trial and that the evidence produced there will be sufficient to defeat her husband's attempt to divorce her on statutory grounds and to give her a separation from him.

"This case," she said today in the presence of her attorney, "will turn out to be one of the most sensational affairs in the history of the army."

New York, Aug. 22.—With "reciprocal insanity" practically decided on as the defense of Captain Peter C. Hains, jr., and T. Jenkins Hains for the killing of William Annis, counsel and relatives of the two prisoners are in consultation today at the office of John F. McIntyre here to decide on the alienists to be called when their trial opens.

General Hains, father, and Major John Power Hains, brother of the accused men today denied a story that a French maid Marie Louise Sulmande, is the mother of a child at T. Jenkins Hains' home and that he is accused of its paternity. Regarding the story that she would take the stand in her husband's defense on condition that he relinquish their children to her and destroy an alleged confession of her relation with Annis, Mrs. Peter C. Hains, jr., said in Boston:

"I am going to protect my babies as far as I can.

"Captain Hains is the father of my children I am afraid that the 'sins of the father are visited on the son'. Later I may have something to say but not now."

Another postponement of the hearing of Captain Hains and his brother was announced at Long Island City jail this morning as the result of a conference between District Attorney Darrin and J. F. McIntyre, Hains' chief counsel. The hearing was to take place on Monday, but Mr. McIntyre managed to convince the district attorney that it would be unfair to his clients to rush the case and so the two brothers will not face the court before a week from next Monday.

Mr. McIntyre will ask for T. Jenkin's discharge on Monday week and then take up the murderers case by a higher tribunal. According to rumor about the jail, Mrs. Haines is to call on her husband tomorrow or Monday. It could not be verified, and Captain Hains refused to give out a statement regarding this or any other matter.

Japanese Scandals.

Tokio, Aug. 22.—The appointment of a commission to investigate the charges recently laid before the mikado of corruption, disloyalty and incompetence in the Japanese army and navy was made known today. Japanese newspaper efforts to uncover the scandals were promptly suppressed, but enough leaked out to show that army and navy officers have been disposing of secrets by wholesale; that China and Russia at least are in possession of every fact that they wish to know concerning Nippon's defenses and that the difficulty the mikado is experiencing in suppressing disorders in Korea and Formosa are due almost wholly to the crippling of the colonial military forces by the idleness and dishonesty of their leaders.

A DOUBTING THOMAS.

Had His Failing Hair Stopped and Dandruff Cured, Without Faith.

H. B. Fletcher, Butte, Mont., Oct. 20, 1899, says: "Like many other people, I have been troubled for years with dandruff, and within the last few months my hair came out so badly that I was compelled to have what I had left clipped very close. A friend recommended Newbro's Herpicide. I confess that I doubted his story; but I gave Herpicide a trial; now my hair is as thick as ever, and entirely free from dandruff." MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH.

Before an audience of 5,000 people in the baseball park, at Des Moines, Iowa, last night, William J. Bryan, democratic candidate for president, formally opened his speaking campaign. For nearly two hours he discussed the tariff question, and was then taken to the Des Moines Auditorium, where 2,000 people, unable to obtain seats in the park, had assembled to listen first to local speakers and to await Bryan's coming.

The evening's rally was preceded by a parade under the auspices of the Young Men's Bryan Club, in which over 1,000 participated.

In his speech Mr. Bryan said:

For twenty-five years the American workingman has been told that he receives higher wages than the English workman solely because of protection.

But our wage earners now know that this cannot be due to protection, because the English workman receives higher wages than the German workman, although the German tariff is higher than the tariff of Great Britain.

Protection does not make good wages. Our better wages are due to the greater intelligence and skill of our workmen, to the greater hope which free institutions give them, to improved machinery, to the better conditions that surround them, and to the organizations which have been formed among the wage earners.

The whole aim of our party is to secure justice in taxation. We believe that each individual should contribute to the support of the government in proportion to the benefits which he receives under the protection of the government.

We believe that a revenue tariff, approached gradually, according to the plan laid down in our platform, will equalize the burdens of taxation, and that the addition of an income tax will make taxation still more equitable.

If the republican party is to have the support of those who find a pecuniary profit in the exercise of the taxing power, as a private asset in their business, we ought to have the support of that large majority of the people who produce the nation's wealth in time of peace, and protect the nation's flag in time of war, and ask for nothing from the government but even-handed justice.

SYSTEMATIC ROBBERIES.

Joseph Breen, white, and John Haskins, Richard Spottswood and Dennis Jackson, colored, were summoned to appear at police court this morning in connection with $47.50 worth of tobacco found yesterday buried on the Spottswood place, just north of this city. The police justice and the commonwealth's attorney closeted the men and the hearing procured these facts. It seems that on July 3 tobacco to the amount named above was shipped from Baltimore to Mr. H. Kirk in this city. It never reched its destination and was given up for lost, as Agent Harvey Gentry had settled the matter for the Washington Southern Railway. Commonwealth's Attorney Brent in his pursuit of the criminals connected with the robberies at the Potomac yards has left no stone unturned to bring the guilty parties to justice and is winding a chain of evidence around those held in custody which he thinks will put them out of harm's way for some time. In the investigation of the case of the barrel of whisky consigned to Joel M. Cochran & Co., of this city, which was stolen from the Potomac yards recently, Mr. Brent received information from parties held in this connection that this tobacco was hidden in the spot where found yesterday. Chief Goods and Officers Ferguson and Sampson proceeded to the place named and unearthed the stolen the goods. It is not known how long these goods have been buried, but at the examination this morning Mr. Joseph Breen, who is associated with Mr. Charles Dean, who keeps a saloon at the old Dan Henry house on north Fairfax street, informed the commonwealth attorney that Dean had told him the goods were brought there by Morris, who is held in jail charged with stealing the whisky and some shoes recently. Breen says he found the tobacco on Dean's place and told Dennis Jackson and John Haskins, both colored, to take it away, which they did and buried it. It looks as if the authorites have the men who are guilty of many robberies at the Potomac yards, as the railroad agent said this morning that since the incarceration of these men there had not been a robbery raported, and before they were arrested articles were missing each night. The four men were held as witnesses against Morris.

WAGON WORKERS.

Judging from current reports it might have been thought that the whole body of wagon workers in this city were on strike. It appears that Mr. R. L. Myers, who conducted a wagon works on Pitt street, in the year 1906, during which year a strike was on in the ranks of the wagon workers of Washington, made an agreement with that union to pay certain wages pending the settlement of that strike. In 1907, Mr. R. L. Myers associated with him his brother and all arrangements or debts incurred by him had to be settled, which was satisfactorily arranged by Mr. R. L. Myers. The new firm had nothing to do with the agreement of R. L. Myers, although when the business warranted it they kept up the standard of wages. When things became dull the new firm, being under no obligation to any organized body, informed the men that they would have to temporarily reduce wages. The Washington wagon workers quit work, and their places were filled by others the first of the week. In an interview with the junior member of the firm this morning he said that while he was not antagonistic to organized labor he reserved the right to conduct his business on a basis whereby he could make his receipts meet his expenses. He wanted the friendship of all business men but he could not sacrifice his plant at the order of a few people who cared only for their own welfare. In future he would run his plant to suit himself. No inconvenience has been occasioned by the strike as the manufactory has not stopped a minute this week.

THE COMMUTERS COMPLAIN.

Citizens of Alexandria and persons residing in other sections of Virginia who have business in Washington which causes them to make daily or weekly trips, as well as a number of residents in southwest Washington, are up in arms against the action of the Commissioners suspending the order requiring the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to select a site between 4½ and 7th streets southwest Washington for the $50,000 substation for the convenience of southern travelers.

The Virginia commuters have organized and propose to fight the plan of the railroad company to build the station on the site proposed at 14th and Water streets southwest. They have enlisted Senator Martin and Representative Carlin in their cause and from now on they will be actively engaged to defeat the plan. They are being aided by citizens living in the southwest section of Washington. A committee consisting of Scott Nesbit and Mr. Richards, representing the Virginia commuters, on Thursday afternoon visited Commissioner West and made known their views. They also furnished arguments why the station should not be placed at 14th and Water streets, and why it should be erected between 4½ and 7th streets.

The principal objection to the former site is lack of street car facilities. At the proposed site near 4½ street or 7th street things are different, they claim. There are cars within a short distance and the site itself is far more preferable in every respect. The commuters argue that inasmuch as Congress included the item providing the station solely for the benefit of the southern travelers, they should be the ones to be satisfied and that their feelings in the matter should be considered first by the Commissioners in providing the site.

POLITICAL.

It seems, judging from a conversation with a republican politician of this city, that things have somewhat changed in regard to the loaves and fishes to be distributed in the event of the success of the republican candidate for president. It is said that at the next district republican congressional convention an effort will be made to nominate Mr. Park Agnew, of this city, as the opponent of Hon. C. C. Carlin, and if successful, and he be defeated, which will certainly occur, he will be named as the republican candidate for postmaster of this city. It is also understood that Mr. Joseph L. Crupper will be placed forward as the candidate for collector of internal revenue for this district, and Mr. Summers, the present officer, will be named for district attorney. What disposition will be made of the lesser lights in the patry is not known—Messrs. Eggborn, Evans, Kelly, Nowland, and Burroughs being candidates for honors. It has been said that the republican party, especially in Virginia, is opposed to making statesmen, for everyone made is a competitor for the few plums to be given out by the party. It will be remembered how Patrick McCaull was sent to a foreign country just about the time he was becoming prominent in the councils of his party. It may be, though, that Mr. Bryan may win and all the worry of these candidates will be over.

MEETING OF COLUMBIA COMPANY.

An interesting meeting of the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Company was held last night and the members took an active interest in the proposed trip to Harrisonburg to the firemen's convention on August 25-26-27. The old reserve engine Columbia looks as neat and trim as it did in its palmiest days. The members have worked hard to get the "old reliable" in condition and Engineer Noble Smith predicts that a good report will come from the engine in the trial tests. The engine will be shipped tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and in the parade at Harrisonburg will be in charge of Driver John W. Travers and Engineer Noble Smith. The hose reel will be driven by Mr. Samuel Elliott. The harness for the horses for the old engine was loaned to the company by Chief Belt, of Washington. Accompanying the Columbia Company, which will be about 40 strong, will be the Naval Gun Factory Band, of Washington. The company will wear their regular uniform. Just before leaving the company has decided to march from the engine house at St Asaph street to Prince, down Prince to Fairfax, up Fairfax to King and out King to the union station, where they will take the train for their destination. The Hampton fire company will arrive on the Norfolk steamer Tuesday morning and will, perhaps, take part in the parade.

PROPERTY SALES.

Mr. W. E. Bain has purchased from Mr. Thomas Murphy the latter's residence on Duke street, near Royal. The consideration it is said was $10,000 and the sale was made through Mr. J. D. Normoyle. Mr. Murphy, who is engaged in business near Rosslyn, will make his home there for the present. The house was built by the late W. H. Lambert about 30 years ago. Mr. Murphy purchased it recently from the estate of the late W. Frank Lambert for $9,000. Mr. Bain will shortly make the house his home.

Mr. F. A. Bayliss has sold to Messrs. M. L. Dinwiddie and J. G. Graham two houses and lots on the south side of Gibbon street between Fairfax and Royal.

WARRANT SWORN OUT.

Constable A. J. Payne, of Fairfax county, came to the police station this morning and asked for a warrant for Clyde Fairfax, of this city, charged with reckless driving in Fairfax county. Officer Henderson was sent to the restaurant at which he was employed and arrested the accused and turned him over to the constable. The trial was held at the store of Mr. M. R. O'Sullivan and Justice T. S. Wright fined the prisoner $5.10, it being his first offense.

THE NEW BOND ISSUE.

There was received today by the city auditor twenty-one thousand dollars in coupon bonds of the issue of 1879 to be exchanged for the four per cent bonds of the new issue of 1908. These bonds are the property of the Episcopal Theological Seminary and High School of Virginia. The bonds, twenty-one of $1,000 each, are part of those which formed holdings of the grand old "seminary and school on the hill" prior to 1861. The refunding of the 1879 bonds has proceeded in a quiet way, and it is said that most every day a bond is brought to the auditor's office for exchange. As it will be first announced to the city council in November or December in what amount the exchanges have been made to that date, yet it is known semi-officially that $540,000 of the $745,000 have been exchanged or are ready for delivery to the owners upon their return to their homes from their summer vacation.

EXCURSIONS.

Post F, the Alexandria branch of the Travelers' Pratective Association, gave its annual excursion on the steamer Jamestown last night. A large number of Alexandrians went on the trip and greatly enjoyed the evening.

As will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere the annual outing of the Greater Washington Drum Corps to Marshall Hall, will be given on Monday evening next. A pleasant time is promised all who attend.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES.

Regular services will be held tomorrow. The joint church service and Young People's meeting which was held at 7:30-8:30 p. m. during the month of July and early part of August, will be discontinued the remainder of the summer, and the usual church service at 8 o'clock will take its place—just one hour 8, to 9. The pastor, Rev. G. I. Humphreys will occupy the pulpit at both services. In the morning he will preach on the "The Career of Faith," and in the evening his subject will be "The Living Stone."

SCRAMBLED MONEY.

A young man named James F. Cury, came here from Manassas yesterday and being liberally inclined proceeded to toss money to all the boys he could see and there was no trouble about him having an audience. The noise incident to this gave rise to a rumor that a woman's purse had been snatched from her hand by a thief who had escaped by means of an electric train, but inquiry into the matter failed to find any truth in the report.

ROCKVILLE FAIR.

The fifty-fifth annual exhibition of the Agricultural Society of Montgomery county, Md., will be held on the fair grounds at Rockville on August 25, 26, 27 and 28. There will be a splendid exhibition of live stock and poultry, farm and garden products, fruit, flowers and domestic handiwork. There will also be racing every day. The Rockville Fair is an institution in this section of the country.

BADLY DAMAGED.

A yacht belonging to Mr. Carey Mills was damaged to the extent of $100 a day or two ago by coming in contact with the schooner Nettie, lying at anchor in the cove above Agnew's shipyard. The craft, which was sailing at the time, was in command of Mr. Melvin Page. The sails were badly torn, besides the yacht received serious damage to the hull.

POLICE COURT.

There was only one case to take the time of the police justice this morning and that was of an old offender who was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse on yesterday, but who did not like the surroundings and returned to the city very drunk. He pleaded with the judge, but of no avail, and he was sent back.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 22.—There was evidence again in the first hour of business today of a resumption of professional efforts for a decline in prices and of a contest between opposing fractions. The market at the close reflected a somewhat oversold condition and prices made new high records of the day.

Senses of Insects.

Insects guide themselves in flight almost entirely and on the ground partly by means of their faceted eyes. The antennae and the buccal sensory organs cannot help in aerial steering.

Insects perceive the motion of objects particularly well—i. e., the displacements of visual images relatively to the compound eye. They therefore see better when on the wing than at rest, for during flight the image of immobile objects is displaced relatively to the eye.

Insects distinguish the contours and forms of objects only more or less indistinctly.

Insects appreciate the direction and distance of objects very clearly during flight by the aid of their compound eyes. They can also appreciate, even when at rest, the distance of immobile objects.

Certain insects (bees, bumblebees) distinguish color clearly and recognize colors better than forms. Among others (wasps) the perception of color appears, on the contrary, to be very rudimentary.—"Senses of Insects."

The Japs as Jokers.

In the days of the second empire Baron Gros was sent to Japan to demand the opening of certain ports to French commerce. Among the rest he named to the Japanese ministers a certain city. The Japanese functionaries smiled so broadly when he preferred the request that the French ambassador asked them to tell him what gave them so much amusement, but instead of answering the Japanese ministers said:

"We will open the port in question, my lord, if France in her turn will open a certain port to us."

"What port is that?" asked the Frenchman.

"The port of Liverpool."

"But, your excellencies," laughing, "Liverpool is not a French port, but an English one."

"Yes," answered the Japanese, "and the port you named is not in Japan but in Korea."

The French ambassador was compelled to admit that the joke was against him.—London Answers.

The Submarine Crew.

Not until you have gone down in a submarine and seen the crew at work can you say you have seen the limit to which it is possible to drill human creatures. No crack company of a regiment, no fire company in any of our big cities, not even the engine force on a man-of-war, is under such discipline as the crew of a submarine. The navy department and the men themselves realize that months are required before even the most capable group of ten can be made to work as a unit, perfect as clockwork. There is no time to "break in" crews when once war is declared, and for this reason the submarine service is continually and incessantly in war practice. Practice runs in the ordinary sense do not exist. Each time the boat stands out to sea she goes as if for business, the scenes you see being exactly like those that would be enacted were the vessel bent upon actually sinking an enemy.—St. Nicholas.

No Help Wanted.

Scene, a courtroom. A big, burly artisan is brought in by the bailiff and placed in the dock. He is a regular Hercules in point of stature and is brought up on a charge of assault. It is evidently his first appearance in court.

When he enters the magistrate is busy with his papers, but presently looks up hurriedly and, turning to the prisoner, exclaims:

"Have you engaged any one to defend you?"

"What's that?" asks the prisoner; then, collecting himself, he adds: "I don't want anybody. Come on, any half dozen of you!"—London Answers

Origin of "Pall Mall."

"Pall Mall (pronounced pell mell) comes from palle malle, an ancient game supposed to have been played on the present site of Pall Mall by Norman monks, by whom it was introduced into England.

The observant Pepys in his famous diary makes mention of it thus:

"April 2, 1661. Into St. James' park where I saw the Duke of York playing at Pelemele, the first time that ever I saw the sport."

How Britain Trains Her Sons.

Home life in England lacks the intimacy and the charming sentimentality of German family life. The sons of England have to leave home early in life to go out into the wide world and fight for themselves. They become independent, responsible men much earlier than our sons do.—Berliner Tageblatt.

Two Sides.

She—If a man loves his wife as much as she loves him he will stop wasting his money on cigars if she asks him. He—Yes, but if his wife loves him as much as she ought to love a man who loves her enough to stop if she asks him she won't ask him.—Puck.

Gave Him Up.

"The doctors have given Johnson up."

"Dear me, is he as ill as that?"

"No; he's quite well. That's why they've given him up."

Quite Refined.

Mrs. Caller—Are your new neighbors refined? Mrs. Nextdoor—I should say so! They never borrow anything but our silver and cut glass.—Chicago News.

"Flattery is like a fairy tale. Even though one does not believe it, one listens willingly to it."

Disappointed.

At a recent meeting of the town council of South Shields, England, the chairman of the finance committee called attention to the fact that the tax rate had increased 27 per cent in six years and would continue to rise unless the municipal undertakings made a better showing. The town had owned its electric plant since 1896 and its tramways since 1906. He expressed regret that the profits which had been expected from these undertakings had not materialized.
